

Bedfordshire Day

28th November

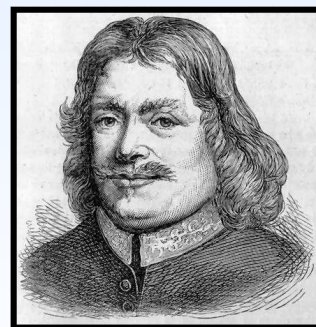

The 28th November is Bedfordshire Day! And we want it to be a great celebration of our county. So why not get involved?

You could get out your county flag and fly it from your house, or show it off in the street? Fly it from your window or tie it from a tree!

You could have a party, go to the local pub for a celebratory pint. Why not make yourself a Bedfordshire clanger for your dinner?

Bedfordshire Day is held on the 28th November to coincide with the birth of John Bunyan; preacher, writer and one of our counties most famous sons.

For more information about Bedfordshire day please visit: www.FriendsOfBedfordshire.org.uk or find us and say hello on  Facebook.com/BedfordshireSociety and twitter  @FriendsOfBeds